Parents and Students:

Our dedicated and determined teachers have accomplished a miracle over the past week. On Sunday, March 15, our governor tasked us to come up with a distance learning plan that did not previously exist, make it applicable to our students in grades PreK-12, and have it ready to go on Monday, March 30. We are ready and excited to start working with our students again – we miss them.

There will be a lot of learning, a lot of glitches, yet we will get this done and we are hoping for your patience. We plan to educate our students well from a distance. The key part to this learning is parents. Without parents, we will struggle – we have never needed our parents more and look forward to working with them. If parents have concerns – feel free to email your child’s teacher(s.)

If you are the parent of an elementary student – you will need to visit Mrs. Sternberg’s video as well for instructions. If your child is a high school student (grades 7-12) – it is time for them to access their Google Classroom – their teachers will be communicating with them and making sure they are ready to go once we begin. If you wish to “observe” a class – you can receive a class code by email from the teacher of that class and gain guardian status.

Classes start on Monday and high school students need to be in their classes during the specific times – see the distance learning plan. Attendance will be taken, and parents will be contacted if a student has not checked in.

Again, thank you for your support during this time of uncertainty. The one thing you can be sure of – your children have fantastic teachers who have the interests of kids at heart. Stay safe.

Sincerely,
